For instance here

```
describe('filtering by type', function () { it('should get fonts', function () { assert.sameMembers(globInstance.filterByType(mockBowerFiles, 'fonts'), normalizeAll([
      "/Users/austinpray/DEV/opensauce/asset-builder/test/tmp/bower_components/bootstrap/fonts/gly
      "/Users/austinpray/DEV/opensauce/asset-builder/test/tmp/bower_components/bootstrap/fonts/gly
      "/Users/austinpray/DEV/opensauce/asset-builder/test/tmp/bower_components/bootstrap/fonts/gly
      "/Users/austinpray/DEV/opensauce/asset-builder/test/tmp/bower_components/bootstrap/fonts/gly
    ]));
  });
});
```

It is not actually looking anything up by path, it is just comparing the hardcoded input string with the output. However seeing my directory structure is scaring people that are unfamiliar with the tests.

I don't get `node`
- These should be changed to something like
- ```
/Users/austinpray/DEV/opensauce/asset-builder/test/tmp -> /Bogus/app
```
